Steven Britt
Sr. Manager – Customs – North America
FCA US LLC

Steven Britt is the Senior Manager of Customs – North America for Fiat Chrysler Automobiles. Steve joined FCA in 2012 and has had various roles within the Manufacturing and Supply Chain areas. Currently, he leads teams in the US, Canada, and Mexico responsible for all Customs operational and compliance activities. As a part of Supply Chain Management, the Customs team plays a critical role in the movement of materials into and out of FCA's manufacturing plants in North America, as well as our Mopar Service Parts division. The group works cross-functionally inside the organization with Purchasing, Logistics, Legal, Government Relations, Tax, Finance, and others as well as externally with the Supply-base. Additionally, FCA Customs is highly involved with the government and works closely with Customs & Border Protection as well as the United States Trade Representative to provide a voice of the industry in shaping current and future trade programs and reforms.

Prior to joining FCA, Steve worked in the Solar Industry at United Solar Ovonic where he managed all Logistics & Customs Compliance functions. Additionally, Steve started his career with numerous roles of growing responsibility in the Customs area at Volkswagen Group of America. He holds a Bachelor's of Science in Economics, a Bachelor's of Arts in Communications, and a Master's of Business Administration from Oakland University. Steve is also a Licensed US Customs Broker.
