Tolga Yaprak
Principal & Founder
Vitruvian Consulting, LLC

Tolga Yaprak is the Founder of Vitruvian Consulting, LLC and the Principal consultant. Operating globally and based in Ann Arbor, Michigan, Vitruvian Consulting specializes in creating conflict minerals compliance, and human rights due diligence programs for companies and institutions.

Mr. Yaprak brings many years of experience in ethical, responsible, and sustainable global value chain solutions, including program documentation and execution, training and supplier outreach. Tolga has composed over 50 Specialized Disclosure Forms (“Form SD”) for submission to the SEC, and regularly assists clients in communicating with investor groups and responding to customer requests.

After graduating from Michigan State University with a degree in International Studies and Political Science, Tolga served in the United States Peace Corps and then earned a Master of Business Administration degree from Eastern Michigan University.

Tolga is a published author, has worked with organizations like AnnieCannons, an organization that works with victims of human trafficking, and has co-presented with the Department of Homeland Security many times on the topic of forced labor compliance. Mr. Yaprak has also been an Instructor at Eastern Michigan

University's College of Business, and a guest lecturer at Butler University, the University of Michigan – Flint, and the Mike Ilitch School of Business at Wayne State University.

It is the combination of real-world supply chain experience and academia; technical expertise and personally being 'boots-on-the-ground' that shapes and formulates Mr. Yaprak's work.
